

TILLMAN HAS NOT ACCEPTED

Ignores a Challenge from His Colleague to Fight a Duel.

M'LAURIN IS MAD

Bill to Protect the Presidents from Murderous Assaults of the Anarchists.

PUNISHMENT DEATH

Washington, D. C., Dec. 12.—Senator Tillman (Dem. S. C.) has not yet responded to the challenge to mortal combat issued by his colleague, Senator McLaughlin, in the heat of debate several days ago upon the floor of the senate. Mr. McLaughlin today announced that though he had no desire to add newspaper fuel to the personal controversy that has been raging more or less publicly for some months, he saw no reason to deny that his remarks embodied not one whit less than a true southerner could imply therefrom.

"My remarks are a part of the record," he declared. "There can be no mistaking them. They were not uttered upon the spur of the moment, though I will admit they were the outcome of a sense of deep wrong. I care not to speak further of the matter."

The challenge of Mr. McLaughlin was delivered in answering the report of his colleague, when Mr. Tillman said he would welcome action by the senate judiciary committee looking toward the declaration that the seats of the United States be declared vacant.

Punishment By Death. Senator Gallinger introduced a bill to protect the president, persons in the line of succession to the presidency and ambassadors and foreign ministers. The bill provides for the punishment by death of any person who shall intentionally kill or who with intent to kill, shall assault the president. The same penalties are prescribed for persons who shall incite others to do any of the foregoing deeds.

For threatening to kill the president or any person in line of succession, a sentence of thirty years is provided, and upon conviction of any person who shall openly or deliberately approve of the intentional, violent or unlawful killing of any persons named, the term of imprisonment is fixed at twenty years.

The death penalty is fixed for any person or persons associating themselves together to consider means for the killing of any person charged with the duty of executing the federal laws, or any chief or head of a foreign state or country, or any ambassador or minister accredited to the United States.

The bill further provides that persons who shall openly or deliberately advocate the violent overthrow of law shall be imprisoned for a period of ten years or less.

Will Confess Knox
The attack by the anti-trust league on the nomination of Philander Knox to be attorney general is not expected to result in the withdrawal of the nomination or the failure to confirm it by the senate. The senate judiciary committee was forced to give consideration to the charges made by the organization that Knox had advised the steel magnates on the formation of the billion dollar trust because the democratic senators declared they would vote against the confirmation unless there was an investigation.

Senate Rushes Business
Business was rushed through with dispatch by the senate this morning. The report of Rockhill, the special commissioner to China, was received and referred to the foreign relations committee. No important bills were introduced.

CLOSING SPEECHES IN BONINE TRIAL

Large Crowd in Attendance—Attorney for the Defense Praises Character of the Prisoner.

Washington, Dec. 12.—The largest crowd that has been in attendance since the beginning of the Bonine trial was in court this morning when the final arguments were resumed. Attorney Fulton for the defense continued his arguments begun yesterday and drew the attention of the jury to the character of Mrs. Bonine as it has been testified to and said no breath of scandal ever touched her until the time when she was dragged into the glare of the public and forced to defend her life because the man that died had attempted an assault on her.

WAR WILL BE THE ONLY RECOURSE

New York, December 12.—The Herald's Buenos Ayers correspondent telegraphs his paper that the dispute between Chile and Argentina on the boundary line will not be settled without recourse to arms. It is generally believed that Argentina will send troops to occupy the roads and pathways in the disputed territory.

Valparaiso, Dec. 11.—The government has decided to call two forces of conscripts. Argentina recently took similar action.

The case of the state of Wisconsin vs. William Zabel is still on trial in the municipal court and will take up most of the day. Zabel was arrested on the charge of stealing six celluloid harness rings and some straps from Mr. Shipman.

LEADER OF BRITISH COURT SET ATTENDS CAKE WALK IN NEW YORK

Perry Belmont Entertains Mrs. George Keppel and Her Brother at Beefsteak Dinner and Ragtime Performance-Scene in Billy Miller's Grill Room.

New York, Dec. 12.—Mrs. George Keppel, friends of King Edward, and leader of England's court set, has been introduced to the great American institution, the cake-walk.

Lord Albemarle, her brother, the Scotch peer of the tenth generation, of a family of gentleman soldiers, stood at her elbow and led the singing in a baritone voice that did credit to his physique if not to his art.

All this happened at an exclusive cake-walk and beef steak dinner given by Perry Belmont to Mrs. Keppel, and Lord Albemarle just before they sailed for England a few days ago. Among the other guests were Mrs. Burke-Rochie, Miss Maude Livingston, Mrs. Van Rensselaer Kennedy, William C. Whitney and Bourke Cochrane.

Asks to See American Novelists.
When Mrs. Keppel, the English beauty, wit and friend of the king, came to New York last fall to visit her husband, George Keppel, who is in business in this country, she had some well formed ideas of the American novelists that she wanted to enjoy.

She had heard of them from the Duchess of Marlborough, Mrs. Paget and other friends. Three of them were: A clam bake, a cake walk, and a beef steak dinner at "Uncle Billy" Miller's.

When New York's four hundred indulge in cake walks there is only one place for the celebration—"Uncle Billy" Miller's. "Uncle Billy" died a few months ago in Bavaria, but his son has inherited the 150-year-old stove that "Billy" griddled steak on for a generation of New Yorkers and the recipes that his father used for the

GOVERNOR LA FOLLETTE MAY RUN AS AN INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE

His Defeat in the Republican Convention Will Make No Difference—His Leaders Are Looking to the Democratic Party for Aid.

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 12.—Stalwarts prominent in the fight against La Follette and populism in Wisconsin believe they see the handwriting on the wall in an editorial in the campaign organ of the half-breeds, which appeared yesterday. Taken in connection with the recent disclosures regarding the circular sent to "fair-minded" democrats in every county in the state by the half-breed junta, it is believed the stalwarts have a pretty fair understanding of the course that the La Follette crowd expects to take when their candidate is defeated for a re-nomination in the next Republican state convention.

The organ of La Follette makes a prediction—namely, that there will be a stalwart and a half-breed candidate for governor, and that the half-breed candidate will be La Follette. It believes that La Follette will be the republican candidate, and will not doubt declare him such even though he be defeated in the regular republican convention, which now seems to be a foregone conclusion, not only among the stalwarts, but among the leaders in the La Follette half-breed camp, for their actions in trying to form an alliance with the democrats together with the "prediction" of the organ are the best evidences to bear out this conclusion.

Caused a Great Stir

Something of a stir was caused in republican circles recently by the discovery of letters sent out by Theodore Kronsage of this city asking for the names of twenty-five good republicans in the vicinity of the recipient and also the names of twenty-five democrats. Mr. Kronsage, who returned from Madison today, said the letters were sent out on request of the Republican state central committee, and when the lists were received he should turn them over to the committee.

CONGRESS AFRAID OF THE BIG TRUSTS

Will Not Accept Carnegie's Gift, Because It Is in Steel Trust Stock.

Washington, D. C., December 12.—Congress is disposed to look in the mouth of Andrew Carnegie's gift horse. It does not like the steel trust which it finds there. Today it became known that the cause of the delay of the public announcement of Mr. Carnegie's generous gift, which President Roosevelt had expected to make yesterday by means of a special message to congress, is the fact that Mr. Carnegie proposed to give not $10,000,000 in cash, but $10,000,000 in United States steel preferred stock. In this form it is feared that congress could not be induced to accept the endowment, and it is probable the offer will soon be renewed in cash, United States bonds or acceptable securities.

ZION DEALINGS IN COURT.

Suit Brought Against Dowle by His Brother-in-Law.

Chicago, Dec. 12.—John Alexander Dowle faced Judge Tukey yesterday as defendant in a suit brought against him by his brother-in-law, Samuel Stevenson, who asks that a receiver be appointed for the Zion City lace industries. Plaintiff demands that the books of Dowle be examined and that his methods be exposed. The case is expected to take the remainder of the week, and before it ends Dowle himself will go upon the stand. Mr. Stevenson understood he was to receive in cash $50,000 and a big block of stock in the lace industry in return for his retirement from Nottingham and a business profiting him from $15,000 to $20,000 annually. As complainant, Mr. Stevenson says that if he signed one of the papers brought forward later by Dowle "his signature thereto was obtained by fraud and deception." The defendant, Dowle, denies the charges.

FILIPINO CANNIBAL TO DIE.

Native to Suffer Death for Eating a Friend.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 12.—Cannibalism has appeared in the varied list of crimes charged against Filipinos by American military courts. According to the record of a court-martial convened in the department of the Visayas, P. I., which has been received at the war department, Raymundo Fonte, a native, found his working companion, Liberato Benlito, sleeping in his (Fonte's) boat. Fonte became enraged, killed the slumbering man with a blow of an oar, and according to his own confession, cooked and ate part of the body. He was sentenced to be hanged at Capiz, Panay, on the 13th inst.

CATHOLICS JOIN GREAT FEDERATION

Proposed Organization Completed at Cincinnati by the Adoption of a Constitution.

Cincinnati, O., December 12.—The American Federation of Catholic Societies perfected its organization last evening by adopting a constitution and by laws.

At the afternoon session telegrams were read from most of the states in the union, representing different Catholic societies, wishing success to the new organization.

This federation is not like the Christian Endeavor, Epworth league or other confederations that include women and young people. It is composed of men of experience in other organizations and it is claimed that it will represent over a million Catholics.

Judge Fitzgerald of Brooklyn presented the report on the constitution early in the morning and the constitution was not adopted until last night.

The following sections are given in full:

"The objects of the American Federation of Catholic Societies are the cementing of the bonds of fraternal union among the Catholic laity and Catholic societies of the United States the fostering and protecting of Catholic interests and works of religion, piety, education, and charity; the study of conditions in our social life and the dissemination of the truth."

"Partisan politics shall not be discussed in any meetings of this federation or of its subordinate bodies; nor shall this body or any of its subordinate bodies endorse any candidate for office."

JONES AGAIN MADE DEMOCRAT LEADER

Minority Senators Decide to Oppose Attempt to Reduce Representation on Committees.

Washington, D. C., December 12.—The Democratic senators today held their first caucus of the present session. Senator Jones was re-elected unanimously chairman of the caucus. The old committee on order of business also was reappointed, and the one vacancy on that committee was filled by the selection of Senator Du Bois of Idaho.

Senator Jones presented a statement from the republican committee on committees, outlining its wishes as to the committee assignments, from which it appeared that the republicans were anxious to increase the republican membership of the several committees and to decrease the democratic membership of a few of the committees.

FARMERS GIVEN SOME ADVICE

Sanitary Board Issues Instructions of an Important Nature.

Madison, Wis., Dec. 12.—(Special)

—owners of cattle affected by tuberculosis are given more chance to dispose of their affected stock to advantage under new rules which have just been agreed upon by the Wisconsin Live Stock Sanitary Board. They are given a chance to ship the affected stock, under the regulations of the board, to Chicago, and inspected and sold under the government regulations, instead of being appraised and slaughtered at home, and are also given the option of holding the affected stock in quarantine. The new rules are in substance as follows:

HOW TO CURE COWS

Animals Suffering from Tuberculosis Must Be Strictly Guarded and Treated.

Disposition of Affected Animals
When it has been demonstrated by the state veterinarian or any of his assistants, acting under his directions, that any herd of cattle in this state has tuberculosis, the owner of such stock shall have the option of:

1. Quarantining such cattle under the direction of the State Live Stock Sanitary Board according to its rules and regulations hereinafter stated.

2. The privilege of shipping such cattle to the secretary of the Chicago Live Stock Exchange or some other abattoir designated by the board for immediate slaughter under United States government inspection, and

3. In case neither of the above privileges are accepted, then the cattle are to be condemned and slaughtered in accordance with chapter 440, laws of Wisconsin for 1901.

Isolation and Quarantine
A quarantine over animals affected by tuberculosis may be authorized by the state veterinarian, at the request of the owner. The premises occupied by the herd must be thoroughly disinfected; they may be kept in the same barn or stable, provided they are separated by a tight partition, and shall not be allowed to drink from the same tank.

Calves from affected animals must be separated from their mothers immediately after birth, and tested with tuberculin before being admitted to the rest of the herd. They must be fed on milk of animals not affected, unless the milk from affected animals be heated to 185 degrees F., or to 140 degrees maintained for twenty minutes.

Milk from affected animals showing no evident symptoms of disease in the udder may be used for human use if heated for twenty minutes to 140 degrees F in a tightly closed apparatus that prevents the formation of a surface scalded layer, or heated momentarily to a temperature of 185 degrees F.

Control of the Quarantine
Control of the quarantine is to be under the local health officer, who is to report to the board at its request as to the condition of the herd, etc. The length of the quarantine is to be agreed upon by the board and the stock owner.

When the quarantine is raised the affected stock shall be slaughtered in accordance with the regulations of the board.

XMAS GIFTS WORTH $540,000 WILL ADORN 3 AMERICAN WOMEN

All the Blue Diamonds Known to History Now Owned in This Country—Hope Diamond Has a Strange Story Since 1642.

New York, December 12.—Five hundred and forty thousand dollars for three Christmas presents—and all three may be carried in the palm of the hand. These are the gifts of three American millionaires to three American women.

The three presents are the only blue diamonds known to history. Two of them, at least, have an individual history dating back to 1642, when the great blue diamond was brought to Europe from India by Tavernier. It was afterwards cut into three pieces.

The most famous diamond of the three is the Hope diamond recently purchased in London by Joseph Frankel's Sons of New York for an American whose name is kept from the public. The price paid is stated to be $250,000.

The second largest of the three is the Duke of Brunswick diamond, and it is to be a Christmas present to the actress, Julia Arthur, from her husband, Benjamin F. Cheney of Boston. The price paid was $190,000.

XMAS GIFTS WORTH $540,000 WILL ADORN 3 AMERICAN WOMEN

All the Blue Diamonds Known to History Now Owned in This Country—Hope Diamond Has a Strange Story Since 1642.

New York, December 12.—Five hundred and forty thousand dollars for three Christmas presents—and all three may be carried in the palm of the hand. These are the gifts of three American millionaires to three American women.

The three presents are the only blue diamonds known to history. Two of them, at least, have an individual history dating back to 1642, when the great blue diamond was brought to Europe from India by Tavernier. It was afterwards cut into three pieces.

The most famous diamond of the three is the Hope diamond recently purchased in London by Joseph Frankel's Sons of New York for an American whose name is kept from the public. The price paid is stated to be $250,000.

The second largest of the three is the Duke of Brunswick diamond, and it is to be a Christmas present to the actress, Julia Arthur, from her husband, Benjamin F. Cheney of Boston. The price paid was $190,000.

The third diamond has been sold by Gattie, Stern & Co. of New York, to an unnamed American for $100,000. The history of the Hope diamond began in 1642 when it is first recorded as the treasure of an Indian potentate. In the days when enormous jewels were plentiful with such princes, it was a rough stone then, weighing 112 1/4 carats.

Henry Thomas Hope, an English banker brought this gem. He is said to have paid $65,000 for it, and the modern part of the story began.

What since 1830 has been known as the Hope diamond remained in that family until a few weeks ago. It again became famous as the principal asset of the present Lord Francis Hope, married to May Yohe, an American comic opera singer. He endeavored to realize upon it several times, but was prevented by proceedings brought by his elder brother, the Duke of Newcastle, and his sister, Lady Beatrice Later-Kaye, the jewel being entailed.

Since the separation of Lord Hope and his wife, which occurred in New York last spring, the ban was removed and the jewel sold.

The Tobacco Market

The soft weather last week brought a considerable quantity of the hanging tobacco into case and about all that was fit has been taken from the poles. A number of the dealers about the city have been riding of late getting samples and buying a few crops. They using, however, has not reached much headway in the older growing sections, although several hundred acres have been purchased during the week.

The American Tobacco company have had a number of buyers in the field and it is claimed that in Vernon, Crawford, Richland and Dunn counties about seventy-five per cent. of the crop has been purchased, at prices ranging from 7 to 14 cents. Last year in these same sections the prices ruled from 6 to 10 cents for the better grades and 2 cents for fillers.

The American Tobacco company are in position to use all the goods they can get and are taking no risk of disposing of the crops after they are bought. Their methods have put the prices at such a high figure that the small dealers hesitate about buying as they can see no money in the crop for them after handling it.

From the way the demand for tobacco in the eastern markets has kept up, it looks as if all grades of leaf would bring good prices. The question that is bothering the small dealers is how much they can safely pay. The conditions of the market are such that if the 1901 crop approached the quality of other years the buying campaign would be the fiercest ever waged in Wisconsin and all of it would have been purchased before this.

The demand for cigars in the eastern markets for the holiday trade is unprecedented. Many of the big factories have so many orders for delivery by January 1, that new orders for that delivery are being declined with thanks. Under these conditions it is not to be wondered at there is a strong demand for all good cigar stock.

All the warehouses in this city will handle more or less of the crop during the coming season, but it is not expected that as many hands will be employed as in the past, but in case there is the season will be much shorter.

There is a brisk demand for all old grades, both in the local and Eastern market centers and the great bulk of the offerings have been already absorbed. With a single exception all the large packings of 1900 Wisconsin have been largely broken up and sold at unusually satisfactory prices.

Barring very large sales and profits the New York leaf market is decidedly active. There is no dullness. Every type of leaf finds its buyer. But the sales are made in retail way more than wholesale fashion. Nevertheless, the aggregate sums up quite a considerable amount.

Whatever is left of the New England type, no matter what its color, quality and texture, is being cleaned up. Binder leaf is in steady demand and the Onondaga has the first call in smaller lots, as Wisconsin is held back for bulk sales. And of filler types all varieties sell. The sales are not made to the big corporations, but to the smaller and middle sized factories, which are exceedingly busy. The jobbing trade is getting the cream of this changed condition and through it the jobbing trade has become once more a desirable and more reliable customer of the packing and importing houses.

The Sumatra market is quietly moving along too on these lines. There has never before been a steadier market in Sumatra leaf than at present and during the past few weeks. The Havana market has taken a jump into the forebodings of activity.—U. S. Tobacco Journal.

The monotony of the tobacco situation in Wisconsin was broken last week by the appearance of the much desired damp weather. Active buying, however, has not yet commenced.

The buying of the remainder of the 1900 crop is the only active feature of the tobacco trade in Ohio, and transactions in this line, while fairly numerous, are confined to small lots of Zimmer Spanish, at prices ranging from 6 to 9 cents, and similar parcels of seed leaf at 6 and 7 cents. The 1901 crop is becoming a matter of considerable anxiety on account of the continued lack of moisture, which has prevented the farmers from stripping their leaf. Until damp weather arrives this condition will prevail and trade remains inactive. Several local buyers have endeavored to contract for this year's Zimmer, but as the farmers generally ask 12 cents through, there has been little business done. It is reported, however, that a few crops have been secured at 10 1/2 and 11 cents through.

The past has been an uneventful week in leaf tobacco circles in St. Louis; while there has been a slight falling off in orders, the business in the main has been satisfactory. It is naturally expected that from now until the end of the year there will be a steady decline in trade, as most manufacturers dislike to receive shipments prior to taking their annual inventory. To offset this, however, a great number of orders will be booked during the month for delivery on the first business day of the new year. Jobbers of manufactured goods report no marked change in trade conditions and state that there is room for improvement.

The opinions on trade in Milwaukee during the week among the leaf jobbers are somewhat mixed. A number of them say that it has been pretty poor, while others say that it has picked up somewhat, although none of them is very enthusiastic about it. Collections are very quiet and there seems to be no tendency toward improvement.—U. S. Tobacco Journal.

The Small of the Back
That is where some people feel weak all the time. They are likely to be despondent and it is not unusual to find them borrowing trouble as if they hadn't enough already. The fact is their kidneys are weak, either naturally or because of sickness, exposure, worry or other influences.

"I am thankful to say," writes J. L. Campbell, of Syracuse, N.Y., "that Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured me. For many years I was troubled with backache. At times I was so bad I had to be helped from the bed or chair. I am now well and strong and free from pain." What this great medicine did for him it has done for others.

COMPLIMENTS FOR GENERAL RANDALL

Brilliant Reception and Banquet Given to Him and His Staff at Portland, Oregon.

Brigadier General George M. Randall, commander of the department of the Columbia with headquarters at Vancouver, Wash., near Portland Ore., who has been visiting his brother Charles Randall and greeting old friends in this city for the past two days on his way home from Washington, D. C., left today for his home on the Pacific slope. Just before General Randall went to Washington to report to President Roosevelt, he and the twelve members of his staff were guests of honor at a reception and banquet given by the Commercial club of Portland, Ore., in their handsome reception and banquet hall. The reception was tendered as an expression of the good will of the citizens of Portland toward General Randall on his return after a year's absence in Alaska and to establish anew the friendly relations that the officers of the barracks and the citizens of Portland have always enjoyed. Seventy-five of Portland's prominent business men, including T. T. Geer, the governor of Oregon, were present as guests and enjoyed the club's hospitality.

Brig. Gen. George M. Randall

The Portland Oregonian gives an extended account of the banquet, printing extracts from the many excellent toasts which made up the evening's program. All contained highly complimentary mention of Gen. Randall and extracts from the address of welcome and the response will be read with interest by Gen. Randall's many friends in this city. In welcoming the guests of the evening, President H. M. Cake, of the Commercial club said:

"We have gathered here this evening to do honor to General Randall and his staff, gallant officers who have been located at Vancouver barracks, which has been an important post from the days when it was assisting in the founding of civil and military government in the Northwest to the present time, when the tide of progress has made this region one of the great important parts of the United States. Around Vancouver have clustered associations connected with those whom the country has loved to honor—Grant, quiet and unassuming in time of peace, the nation's strong arm in time of war; Sheridan, impulsive and sagacious, whose heroic ride has endeared him to our memory; Gibbon, who bore the brunt of Pickett's charge; Jeff C. Davis, Miles Morrow, Anderson and last but not least, George M. Randall."

On behalf of Gen. Randall and his staff, Major Robert K. Evans responded to the address of welcome in a happy and humorous vein, keeping his listeners in a merry mood which manifested itself in continual rounds of applause. Among other things he said:

"General Randall has wished me to make a speech. General Randall's wishes are my orders. If General Randall would say to one of his officers, 'Go to the north pole,' you may rest assured that the officer would at least make a start. For the north pole is in his jurisdiction. That's right; it's a question of geography. The north pole is in the jurisdiction of General Randall. He told me to essay a speech and I am essaying it. I am glad to see the city of Portland do General Randall honor. Everytime, you do him honor, you do honor to the whole staff. I need not say we are glad to be here. We have not been in America for a great many years. Take General Randall for instance. First he went to straighten out a part of Cuba. After that he went to the Philippines and from there he went to Alaska, where he was put in cold storage. General Randall arose to his position in the regular service from a private in the volunteer ranks and he is the kind of a soldier that the theoretical American likes to honor."

"The army has been going around and planting the flag on places where we never thought it would be placed. Why, if we had said five years ago that the American flag would fly over the Philippines the people would have thought we had the Jimjams. We have planted the flag over some bad cattle, I will admit, but as a soldier I hope that no sane and decent American citizen will ever advocate pulling it down. If we can't rule the cattle and they can't get along peacefully under our rule we had better exterminate them. * * * I also want to propose a toast to the health, wealth, prosperity and grandeur of Portland. May her trade go round the world and if you find a place that you can't reach, tell us of it and we'll get it for you."

BACON DECLARES
TREATY IS WEAK

Senator Claims That Concessions by England Are of Little Importance.

URGES THE OLD AMENDMENT.

On the Other Hand Cullom Praises the New Agreement and Says the Nation May Close the Canal in Time of War.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 12.—Two speeches on the Hay-Pauncefote treaty were made in the executive session of the Senate, one by Senator Bacon in opposition to the treaty and the other by Senator Cullom, the prospective chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, in support of it. Mr. Bacon replied to the speech made Monday by Senator Lodge. He summed up his objections in the statement that he could not freely accept any treaty which does not place the Isthmian Canal entirely under American auspices and American control. This, he said, the pending treaty does not do, nor does it do anything like it. It did not by long odds accomplish what had been accomplished by the Senate amendments made to the Hay-Pauncefote treaty at the last session of Congress. The Davis amendment, Mr. Bacon said, had abrogated all the objectionable provisions of that treaty as negotiated, and it did not matter what provisions there were in the agreement so long as the United States was authorized, as it was by the principal Davis amendment, to secure the safety and maintenance of the canal by its own force. That amendment had given this country a free hand to do what was necessary for the protection and defense of the canal, whereas the present treaty carried all the restrictions which originally were contained in the old treaty, leaving out the modifications of the Davis amendment. Mr. Bacon also pointed out that the treaty reproduces the restrictions of the old Suez Canal treaty, which had been incorporated in the original convention. He charged that these restrictions had been copied almost verbatim from the old treaty, the only material change being in the omission of the words "in time of war as in time of peace" from rule 1 of the Suez Canal agreement. This omission did not, in his opinion, change the character of the agreement. "The only reply," he said, "which the advocates of the treaty make to criticisms is that the canal would be under the full control of the United States in time of war, but this is more true now than under the old treaty." He said the war restrictions of the treaty were entirely inconsistent with the claims of Senator Lodge that this country should say who should use the canal and who should not in case of hostilities. He contended that the only power given to the United States which was not given to Great Britain was found in the last sentence of regulation 2, providing that "The United States shall be at liberty to maintain such military police along the canal as may be necessary to protect it against lawlessness and disorder." This, he said, was not sufficient to make the canal an American institution, and if the Davis amendment had been necessary to render the original treaty acceptable it was equally necessary in this instance. He considered the pending treaty every whit as objectionable as the treaty of last session.

Cullom Upholds the Treaty.
Senator Cullom congratulated the Senate and the country upon the fact that there are two things in connection with the new treaty upon which, he said, practically all are agreed. One of these was the desirability of the supercession of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, and the other that of the necessity for the construction of an Isthmian canal. He contended that the new treaty radically changed the conditions presented by the first Hay-Pauncefote treaty, clearly relieving it of the necessity of such an amendment as that made to the old treaty upon the suggestion of Senator Davis, because the treaty itself would permit the United States under international law to own, manage, and defend the canal in any way that it may choose. In other words, he added, in a war with Great Britain or with any other power the treaty would be suspended, under the law which governs nations, until the war should be concluded, when it would be revived and again enforced.

ROAD TO TUNNEL
HUDSON RIVER

Pennsylvania Lines Will Go Underground from Jersey City to New York.

BRIDGE IDEA IS GIVEN UP.

Contracts Let by Same Company for Over $1,000,000 Worth of Improvements at Other Points on the System—Horseshoe Curve to Go.

New York, Dec. 12.—A. J. Cassatt, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, has confirmed the announcement that the Pennsylvania railroad would build a tunnel under the Hudson river instead of a North river bridge in order to secure an entrance into this city and to connect with the Long Island railroad. In addition to this important decision the Pennsylvania company awarded contracts amounting to over $1,000,000 for building a bridge over the Raritan river and for a tunnel which will do away with the famous horse shoe curve in the Alleghenies. The tunnel will cross under the North river so as to touch this city at Thirty-third street, and continue in an easterly direction so as to enter a large underground station that is to be constructed in the block bounded by Thirty-second street, Seventh avenue, Thirty-third street and Eighth avenue, and in a part of the block bounded by Thirty-second and Thirty-third streets and Eighth and Ninth avenues. From the underground station the tunnel is to proceed east, nearly along the line of Thirty-second street and under the East river to Queens, connecting with the Long Island railroad. Under the North river the tunnel will have room for two railway tracks. East of the underground station in Manhattan there will be four tracks and under the East river each track will be in a separate tunnel, so that there will be four tunnels under the East river. The Long Island railway will have the use of two of the tracks running on the line of Thirty-third street, just east of Broadway, visual station at 49 and 51 West Thirty-third street, just east of Broadway. The Pennsylvania and the Long Island railroad companies will have joint use of the large underground station at Thirty-third street and Seventh avenue. The tunnel under the North river will bring the Pennsylvania railroad into the heart of New York City and give easy and direct communication with Long Island. By means of a bridge near Ward's Island and another connecting railroad, the trains of the Pennsylvania system can be run to the tracks of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad and into New England.

Three Texans Killed in Fight.
Houston, Tex., Dec. 12.—A street fight with firearms, which resulted in the death of the three participants, was witnessed here by large crowds of people who are in town for carnival week. Officers J. C. James and Herman Youngst attempted to arrest Sid Preacher, a well known gambler, whereupon the latter fired at James, mortally wounding him. Preacher then shot Youngst, knocking him down, and was beating the officer when James raised himself from the gutter and shot the gambler dead. Both officers expired before bystanders reached them.

Farmer Murdered for Money.
Duquoin, Ill., Dec. 12.—Bound, gagged and blindfolded, the dead body of Ewald Elchhorn, a German farmer, was found in his late home in the evening, three miles east of this city, by John Thomas, a nephew. Elchhorn was a bachelor, and lived alone. He was last seen alive on Saturday, and was supposed to have gone to visit relatives at Belleville. The murder was committed with a stick of stove wood, with which Elchhorn's head was beaten to a jelly. Robbery is supposed to have been the motive, as Elchhorn had drawn a considerable sum from the bank Friday.

Boy Confesses to Arson.
New York, Dec. 12.—Just because he liked to see the engines and yearned for the company of firemen, George Furlong, fourteen years old, started fifty-three fires in the Chelsea Jute Mills, Williamsburg. He confessed in court after having been caught starting the fifty-third fire Monday. He implicated four other sweep-boys in the factory and said they only did it for the excitement of the thing. The loss by these fires was $20,000.

Says Local Boards Violate Law.
St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 12.—State Insurance Commissioner Elmer H. Dearth in a letter to a Winona insurance agency in effect holds that the local boards of underwriters of the various cities throughout the state, which fix insurance rates and regulate the acceptance of risks, are combines which violate the state anti-trust law, in that they do away with all competition and regulate arbitrarily the price of insurance.

American Buys Blue Diamond.
New York, Dec. 12.—The latest owner of the second blue diamond, in size and rarity, ever brought into this country—a rare stone of mysterious origin—was Mrs. Benjamin P. Cheney, formerly Julia Arthur of the historic world. The almost priceless gem was purchased by Mr. Cheney, who gave it to his wife as a Christmas present. The price he gave for it was $190,000.

RECIPROCITY.

What President Roosevelt thinks of reciprocity is interesting because it is a question congress is determined to debate at this session; and no one doubts this body will be greatly influenced in its deliberations by the president's views on the subject.

He says what nobody will question that it would be most unwise to "disturb the business interests of the country" by any general change at this time, and that experience in the past has shown that "sweeping revisions of the tariff" produce panic conditions in the business world. This is very true and there should be no sweeping revision. The "friends of the tariff system" who have favored some changes are not in favor of any such revision. They believe the tariff had better be revised by its friends, and that there is among its friends a strong demand for a revision in some of its schedules.

The subject of reciprocity is treated very much on the lines of the Roosevelt speech at Minneapolis and the McKinley speech at Buffalo. It states the desirability of a stable economic system, supplemented with reciprocal benefits and obligations with other nations, always with an eye to the main object. Such reciprocity, the president says, is an "incident and result" of the firm establishment and preservation of our economic system. Where the tariff is needed it is to be maintained, and reciprocal relations should be sought where they will not do injury to our industries. But duties must never be reduced below the point that makes it possible to pay American wages. Keeping in view our home industrial well being, "the principle of reciprocity must command our support." The present extent of our foreign trade emphasizes the necessity of wider markets, which as President McKinley said, can be secured only by broad and enlightened policy, which is "the only policy that can secure more than we have already got." We must sell wherever we can and buy wherever the buying will enlarge our sales. "The period of exclusion is past." Commercial wars are unprofitable. These were some of the things, the late president said, and they are repeated, by President Roosevelt. We can so arrange our tariff as to enable us to take from our customers products which we can use without harm to our labor, and which will be of benefit to us. To secure foreign markets we can lower duties that are no longer needed for revenue; and these lines and those others "where because of natural or economic causes, we are beyond the reach of competition," are pointed out as the natural ones for the development of a policy of reciprocity. There are no new reciprocity treaties mentioned, but the senate's attention is asked to those laid before it by President McKinley.

A substantial reduction is asked in the duties on imports from Cuba into the United States, which measure for the material well-being of the island, "we are bound by every consideration of honor and expediency" to pass.

CHURCH-GOING YOUNG MEN.

The Young Men's Christian Association has made a study of the statistics of the United States census and have brought to light some interesting facts which we condense below.

By the term "young men" is meant those between the ages of sixteen and thirty-five. The average marrying age is twenty-five. Fifty-five per cent. of young men live at home and eighty-five per cent. are employed by others. Twenty-two per cent. are members of fraternal orders, of which number sixty-five per cent. are church members.

One-half of the country's young men go to church regularly; one-third irregularly, and one in fourteen not at all. One-fourth of the city young men attend church regularly, one in two irregularly, and one in seven not at all.

The power of the Christian home is shown by the large per centage of young men from Christian homes who attend church; seventy-eight per cent. of those who have Christian parents are regular church goers.

Some of the reasons given by young men for not attending church may be interesting, as they are characteristic of average youth.

"No reason, indifference, can be as good a christian out of church as in, don't see the need, no time because of work."

One thing is noticed among these excuses and that is that there seems to be no prejudice against the Christian church, but rather an indifference due to lack of interest, and a crowding of easily assumed duties connected with their work and play.

EXCLUDING JAPANESE.

Although the American Federation of Labor has adopted resolutions favoring the exclusion of Japanese as well as the Chinese, it seems to be misguided zeal.

China with her 400,000,000 of people who have not attained civilization, and who so hate everything that smacks of civilization, that their presence would menace our advancement, presents a very different problem from Japan, with her up-to-date faas. Japan is not one-tenth of the population of China, and would not send even that fraction of laborers to our shores compared with China, because the conditions in Japan are so favorable to advancement of the individual and the working classes.

There might be circumstances that would make it as desirable to exclude some Europeans as the Japanese and the ordinary laws of immigration are sufficient if properly enforced.

If the Federation of Labor would devote its energy to the enforcement of the laws at present on our statutes the results would be more fruitful and beneficial than the attempt at securing further exclusions.

PRESS COMMENT.

Ripon Free Press: The editor of this paper is being somewhat censured for not supporting Gov. La Follette for a renomination. The editor of this paper is a republican and the longer he lives he believes the republican principles are right and the best for the masses. We don't believe in populistic doctrine or one-man power. The country is not ripe for a dictator to step in and run the whole thing regardless of consequences. We are a republican, first, last and all the time, believing the party to be greater and of more importance than the opinion of any one man. Should La Follette win in the convention we shall vote for him and the Press will give him a most hearty support. That's the kind of a republican we are, Gov. La Follette, we are sorry to state, is not that kind of a republican. His records show that when defeated in convention he did not lend his party any particular assistance, but on the contrary, practically went to sleep if he did not actually assist the democrats. Every stalwart republican in the state will vote for him if nominated, but should the stalwarts nominate a candidate would the half-breeds give the stalwart nominee an equal support? No. They never did and they never will. Who, then, are the genuine republicans and have the welfare of the party at heart?

Milwaukee Journal: It does not matter particularly whether William Waldorf Astor is an adopted Englishman or not, so long as he is no longer classed as an American.

Noenah Times: It was a very proper and timely act on the part of the postoffice department at Washington to inaugurate what is known as the McKinley postal card, in honor of one of the best presidents of this country, the late William McKinley.

RAWHIDE JIM'S CHRISTMAS.

He Had Cause For Thanks Even Though His Neck Got Twisted.

"How is Rawhide Jim, the stage driver, getting along?" inquired the editor of The Clarion on Christmas day. "I understand that he went through a very painful experience yesterday."

"Yes," replied Alkali Ike. "He had three grass widows in the stage when he started out from Rocket City, and he thought they acted like they were tired of their single blessedness and had designs on him. Accordin', he drove all the way with the four miles layin' out straight an' tore the whole outfit, east-ers an' all, down near to atoms. He just kept his head turned back toward the widows, ready to abandon the stage at the first hostile movement on the part of the ladies, till he twisted his fool neck so that when he finally clumb down from the stage at the end of the journey he walked backward. Now the business men are cussin' him for losin' their mail, the postmaster is after him for neglect of duty, the tourists are talkin' of havin' him arrested for assault with intent to kill, the owner of the buckboard wants damages, an' the widows were so flattered by his continual notice that they have sent for him to call on 'em. Dr. Slade is tryin' to straighten his neck, an' not knowin' which direction he had twisted it around from in the first place, twisted it still farther the wrong way till it sorter locked an' stuck fast, an' now it won't turn in either direction."

"Well, well! This will be a painful Christmas for him."

"Waul, yes, but from his point of view it ain't as bad as it might have been. He's the thankfullest man in town today. He says that but for the smile of Providence one of them widows might just as well have been the wife that he left back yonder in the states when he sorter hopped out between days three years ago."—New York World.

His "Still Life."

"There seems," said the chairman of the hanging committee to the young artist who had offered a picture for the annual exhibition, "to be a mistake of some kind here. You call your picture a 'still life,' but we find it to be the portrait of a man."

"Yes," the artist answered. "It's all right. There's no mistake." "But there must be. A portrait can't be catalogued as a still life. You don't seem to understand that a person cannot be represented in a still life picture."

"Oh, but this is the portrait of a deaf and dumb man!"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Not to Be Disturbed.

"I want a pound of water crackers," said Mrs. Korntop.

"Well—er—s'pose I send 'em up to your place?" replied the country storekeeper.

"I did think to take 'em with me." "Sorry, ma'am, but Jake Bullman's snoozin' on top of the bar! they're in, an' he ain't in the best of humor today."—Philadelphia Press.

All Work, No Play.

Two men were standing in front of a window display of a department store. One was looking at the goods, the other was looking at the clock.

"Say, Bill, old man, you seem to be in a hurry." "Yes, an' de hardest part is habin' ter git an old geezer a game of talk for ten minutes an' den git er plugged Canadian dime."

His Idea of It.

"Willie!" exclaimed his mother reproachfully as he hurried a piece of toasted bread across the table.

"Oh, that's all right!" replied the boy. "We're pretending this is a banquet."

"What's that got to do with it?" she demanded.

"Why, I'm giving a toast," he answered.—Chicago Post.

HIS VIEW OF CHRISTMAS.

Why the Minister's Boy Didn't Like This Particular Holiday.

The minister's little boy did not look at all pleased as he came down from his father's study the day after Christmas. Something had gone wrong about the rectory. His name had been mentioned almost too prominently in regard to the matter, and he had but a moment before submitted to an interview in the awe inspiring room where his father composed the sermons of the week.

"I don't like Christmas," the little boy muttered as he gazed out upon the snow in the rectory yard and wiped the last straggling member of a procession of tears from his cheek.

"No," he continued, "this Christmas business isn't what some people say it is, not by a long shot. Everybody seems to think it's a great thing for the little boys of the country, but I can tell 'em that it's anything but great for a minister's son. He doesn't have any show at all. He isn't in it."

"Why, say," he continued as he cautiously settled himself in a chair with a soft cushion, "would you like Christmas if you were a minister's little boy? Would you be pluin' for it and lyin' awake nights waiting for it to get here? I don't think! Just think of all the big, hard soled slippers a minister gets on every Christmas tree!"—New York World.

XMAS DINNERS BY SALVATION ARMY

The Local Corps of Janesville, Inten to Give the Poor a Fine Spread That Day.

The following paragraphs will, in a measure, give the public an idea of what the Salvation Army intends to do this year in the way of a free Christmas dinner, at our larger centers throughout the United States. Last year 100,000 people were made happy by receiving a free Christmas dinner provided by the Salvation Army. This year the Army is arranging to feed 150,000 of the deserving poor.

New York alone will feed 25,000 people, as follows: They propose to give out 4,400 baskets at the Madison Square garden, each basket to contain sufficient food for a family of five, making a total of 22,000 baskets; 3,000 men will be fed in the Madison Square Garden at one sitting, making a grand total of 25,000 dinners given out next Christmas day in New York City alone.

Our other large centers will do the same in proportion to their size. The local corps in Janesville does not propose to be left behind in helping the deserving poor. We are arranging to feed 200 on Christmas day at the army barracks. Admission will be by ticket and only to those who are worthy will tickets be given. In connection with this dinner, we are urgently in need of provisions, etc.

Donations of tea, coffee, sugar, potatoes and other vegetables, oranges, apples, butter, nuts, chicken, turkey, beef, etc., etc., will be thankfully received.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

The Pittsburgh Orchestra gave its first performance in Chicago, Monday night at the auditorium, the event marking the twelfth anniversary of the Auditorium dedication. For the occasion Victor Herbert, the director, had written a festival march, which was given its first public hearing before a large and fashionable audience. The orchestra and conductor were enthusiastically received, and the new composition in which the melody of "And Lang Syne" is cleverly utilized, won great applause. The soloists were Miss Suzanne Adams, soprano, and Mr. William H. Sherwood, pianist. Herbert's new symphonic suite, "Woodland Fancies," was also on the program. A second performance was also given last night, after which the orchestra leaves for a tour of the northwest. It will appear to night in Janesville and promises to draw the house of the season.

The Kelcey-Shannon company, which appears at the Mygors Grand tomorrow night, is an organization formed to equal the strength and balance of the New York Lyceum Theater Stock company, at the time when Mr. Kelcey and Miss Shannon were members of it, is this season in their support. The company includes Mr. Morton Selten, who for many seasons was leading man with E. H. Sothern; Chas. W. Stokes, who last year played Canby in "Arizona"; Percy Brooke, formerly with W. H. Crane; Miss Hattie Russell, the well known sister of Ada Rehan; Winona Shannon, a sister of Miss Shannon; Miss Marie St. John, who for many seasons was at Daly's in the support of Ada Rehan; Isabel Waldron, who for a number of years was associated with Mr. Kelcey and Miss Shannon and others.

HEART TROUBLE.

Thousands Unduly Alarmed About That Ordeed Heart Disease.

American in their mad struggle for wealth or position—scheming, planning, executing or toiling, seldom give a thought to the great sacrifice they are making of their health. A gradual feeling of exhaustion comes on, the appetite fails, sleeplessness follows, then the blood is giving out, the memory becomes treacherous. At times the head becomes dizzy, the heart palpitates, turns, feels dull and sore. Don't make the hasty conclusion that you have heart disease—it's your stomach. The heart and stomach are controlled by the same great nerves—the sympathetic and pneumogastric. One form of poor digestion causes a gas and fermentation of half digested food—hence palpitation and short breath. The blood becomes thin and watery, irritating and weakening the heart. The surest, quickest way to relieve such trouble is to make perfect digestion with regular doses at meal times of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which can be had at most druggists in 50 cent and $1 bottles. (It's economy to buy the dollar size). Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will cure any form of stomach trouble (except cancer of the stomach). It is pleasant to take and in causing perfect assimilation of the food cures constipation (not by irritation) but by removing the cause. Book and sample for the asking. Syrup Pepsin Co., Monticello, Ill., U.S.A.

A FEW REASONS.

Which are Rapidly Making a New Catarrh Cure Famous.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, the new catarrh cure, has the following advantage over other catarrh remedies: First: These Tablets contain no cocaine, morphine, or any other injurious drug and are as safe and beneficial for children as for adults; this is an important point when it is recalled that many catarrh remedies do contain these very objectionable ingredients.

Next: Being in tablet form this remedy does not deteriorate with age, or an exposure to the air, as liquid preparations invariably do.

Next: The tablet form not only preserves the medicinal properties but it is so far more convenient to carry and to use at any time that it is only a question of time when the tablet will entirely supersede liquid medicines as it has already done in the medical department of the United States Army.

Next: No secret is made of the composition of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets; they contain the active principles of Eucalyptus bark, red gum, blood root and Hydrastis, all harmless antiseptics, which, however, are death to catarrhal germs wherever found, because they eliminate them from the blood.

Next: You cannot cure catarrh by local applications to the nose and throat, because these are simply local symptoms and such treatment cannot possibly reach the seat of catarrhal disease, which is in the blood; for this reason Inhalers, douches, sprays and powders never really cure catarrh, but simply give temporary relief which a dose of plain salt and water will do just as well.

Catarrh must be driven out of the system, out of the blood, by an internal remedy because an internal remedy is the only kind which can be assimilated into the blood.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets do this better than the old form of treatment because they contain every safe specific known to modern science in the antiseptic form of the disease.

Next: The use of Inhalers and spraying apparatuses, besides being ineffective and disappointing, is expensive, while a complete treatment of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can be had at any drug store in the United States and Canada for 50 cents.

Statistics on appendicitis show that it is equally prevalent in every month of the year. The Chicago health records show twenty-three deaths in January, and twenty-five in July, from this baffling disease. Now is the time to take the surest preventive, Dr. Crane's Quaker Tonic Tablets. Fifty cents at the nearest drug store.

Benefit of the Doubt.

"Where I take my noon luncheon," observed Rivers, "I usually sit opposite a young man and woman who seem to be employed in downtown offices, and I have wondered every day for the last six months whether they are married or merely engaged to be married."

"Can't you tell?" asked Brooks.

"No."

"Then of course they're married,"—Chicago Tribune.

A Cold Rejoinder.

"There ain't much sympathy in this world, an' dat's a fact," said Meandering Mike. "I took dat policeman into my confidence. I told him dat I had had all de troubles extant; dat I was jes' a collection of sorrows."

"What did he do?"

"He looked me over an' den said it was about time fur him to take up a collection."—Washington Star.

Where Sympathy Was Needed.

"How's the baby?" asked the mother, who had run in next door to see a neighbor and had been detained.

"Madam," coldly replied the father, who had been temporarily left in charge of the infant, "your solicitude is for the wrong person. If you have any sympathy to waste, give it to me. The baby doesn't need it half as much."—Chicago Post.

A Suggestion.

"What we need," said the street railway manager, "is some plan that will induce the women to go to the front of the car instead of crowding about the door."

"Why don't you put a little bargain counter back of the motorman?" asked the friend who was noted for his suggestions.—Baltimore American.

Up to the Dog.

Hotlick—Your dog bit me last night in the leg, and I want to know what you are going to do about it.

Lambert—Oh, I shan't do anything unless the dog should come down with some disease. In that case, of course, I shall hold you responsible.—Boston Transcript.

C. E. Langworthy, president of the board of trustees of the Insane Asylum and alms house, presented the reports of the trustees of said institution, as follows:
Rock County Insane Asylum:
Trustees' Annual Report:
To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Rock County:
Gentlemen: In compliance with law, the board of trustees of the Rock County Insane Asylum and Four House respectfully submit herewith their annual report for the year ending September 30, 1901.

The institution is well managed and a high degree of discipline is maintained. Sup. Kilham and the able corps of nurses all seem to realize the responsibility of their several positions and are all uniting in their efforts to make the unfortunate placed in their care as happy and contented as possible, under the circumstances.

The total number of insane cared for during the year was 151. The total number of paupers cared for during the year was 89, making a total of 240 persons who have been cared for during the year, as against 158 insane and 97 paupers, or a total of 255 last year. Net cost per capita present year, $1.05, against $1.56 last year. The increase per week of $1.05 for the year over last year is owing to the higher prices paid for all the necessary supplies purchased.

If we add to the net cost of maintenance of the insane and paupers within the county to $10,721 (as shown by the superintendent's report) the salary of the superintendent and the salaries of the trustees (which are paid from the county treasury) and four per cent. interest on the total cost of the plant, the cost per capita per week will be $2.45.

The number of insane in the asylum as shown by the superintendent's report September 30, 1901, was, 141. The number of insane in the poor house on the same date was, 47.

Making a total of, 189.
On the same date last year there were 189 in the asylum and 53 in the poor house.

Total, 242.
This statement shows two more in the asylum, six less in the poor house and four less in both last one year ago.

Considering the long, hot, extremely dry summer the farm and garden have yielded a fairly abundant crop of not only grain and hay but of vegetables also, the aggregate being nearly the same as one year ago.

The stock on the farm is in fairly good condition. A little thinner in flesh than last year owing to the short feed caused by the dry weather.

The following is a statement of the financial condition of the institution for the year ending September 30, 1901:

RECEIPTS.
In the county treasury Oct. 1, 1901, was, $7,501.76
Received from the state during the year, 13,705.27
Deposited by Superintendent Kilham during the year, 2,573.11

Total, $24,140.17
Drawn out on orders of trustees $10,944.31
Balance in treasury Oct. 1, 1901, 7,195.86

Total, $24,140.17
The annual settlement with Superintendent Kilham shows the following debits and credits during the year:

DEBIT.
To cash received on orders from trustees, $10,944.31
To cash received from private patients, 1,537.33
To cash received from inmates of poor house, 238.99
To cash received from sale of farm products, 654.83
To cash received from all other sources, 81.80

statement of receipts and expenditures that we can no longer expect to make any money by keeping insane from other counties, because the new asylums are being filled up at the expense of the older ones, but we can keep our own insane at a minimum cost.

The cost of the farm and improvements to Oct. 1, 1901, was, $151,103.10
Permanent improvements made during the year, 207.00

Total cost to Oct. 1, 1901, $151,310.10
Your honorable body at its last January meeting very generously appropriated $1,000 for a hospital (which is very much needed) the erection of which was placed in charge of the committee on public buildings, and is now nearing completion, a detailed statement of which will be reported by said committee. No part of the cost of said hospital is included in the above statement of the cost of the plant.

An inventory of the various articles of personal property belonging to the institution, including the contents of the trustees' and also bills and vouchers for each item of expense audited by the trustees will be found on file in the office of the county clerk. A copy of said inventory, a copy of the report of Sup. Kilham and J. F. Pomeroy, M. D., physician, are hereto attached and made a part of the report. We would respectfully request a careful study of the said reports and the inventory in their respective departments.

On Sunday morning, the 20th inst., fire was discovered in the kitchen of the asylum and rooms adjoining. Fortunately, owing to the quick work and action of those in charge it was extinguished before any serious damage was done, but not, however, until the city fire department arrived and rendered valuable assistance. The loss has been adjudged at $2,222. The furniture, bedding, attendants' clothing and other personal property in the rooms were damaged more or less by smoke and water but as the insurance covered only the buildings and contents, we are therefore calling your attention to the fact that there is a large amount of personal property on which no insurance is carried, which in case of fire, if once lost, would mean a total loss, because we really have no fire protection, the only means of a water supply being from the tanks in the attic, which are in a leaky condition. The dripping from these tanks cause the plaster to fall off, damages the walls, and will probably cause the joists and other timbers to decay. They are not high enough to reach the pressure required to throw water to the roof of the buildings. We would therefore suggest that your honorable body take such action in the matter as the importance of the case demands. All of which is respectfully submitted.

C. E. LANGWORTHY,
ROBERT MOORE,
W. J. MINTYRE,
Trustees.

Referred to Committee No. 10.
W. J. McIntyre, trustee of the Insane Asylum and alms house presented the reports of the superintendent and physician of said institution, as follows:

"Ordinary Repairs" include the entire new sets of tubs and plumbing connections in laundry, repairs on steam pipes and pumps in boiler room, steel ceilings in two rooms, adjacent walls and ceilings in food hall, and the incidental repairs about the premises.

Visitors are received at the institution every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday with the exception of holidays. Services are usually held every Sunday during the year. Holidays observed with appropriate entertainments, and amusements of various sorts have been furnished the patients.

The Janesville Daily Gazette, Janesville Herald, Beloit Weekly Free Press, Evansville Weekly Tribune and Wisconsin Tobacco Reporter have been furnished gratuitously to the asylum, and for which in their issue of the 20th inst. I am indebted to you to express my thanks and also to the friends of the institution who in many ways have contributed to the happiness and welfare of the patients.

In conclusion I desire to thank the employees for the faithful discharge of their duties. Dr. J. F. Pomeroy for his valuable assistance and counsel, and your honorable board for your cordial support. Respectfully,

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.
To the Honorable Board of Trustees and Superintendent of the Rock County Insane Asylum and alms house:
Gentlemen: I herewith hand you my report as physician to the above institution for the year ending September 30, 1901.

There were thirteen deaths at the alms house during the year, nine of which were males and four females. While in the insane department five have occurred, two males and three females. The following tables will give the name, age and cause of death. The deaths among the dependent were:

Name Age Cause of Death
Josephine Chazourekka, 51, Cancer of Uterus
Samuel Turner, 52, General Paralysis
Edna Turner, 52, Old Age
EUGENE STERN, 37, Epilepsy
David Lang, 37, Organic Heart Disease
Mrs. P. Sheridan, 74, Fracture of Hip
Patrick Termon, 59, Bronchitis
Philip Pentecost, 65, Hemiplegia
John Murray, 65, Progressive Paralysis
James Whiting, 50, Heart Disease
Andrew Farmington, 75, Bronchitis
Andrew Olson, 30, Exhaustion from exposure
John H. Hogan, 65, Heart Disease

You will notice that all were well advanced in years save two, and that all died of chronic diseases with the exception of two.

The deaths among the insane were:
Name Age Cause of Death
John McDonald, 53, Schizophrenia
Johnna O'Hara, 51, Old Age
David Seavey, 49, Chronic Core
Mary Ann Dalton, 52, Pernicious Anemia
Cornelius Longke, 41, Continued Fever
You will notice that the cause of death among the insane is not nearly as great as among the dependents and that there was only one death from acute disease.

The work in the alms house is gradually assuming more of the character of a work done in a general hospital and while we have many old and feeble cases to care for we also have many brought in suffering from acute disease. No infectious or contagious diseases have developed in the institution. This of itself tells all there is to say about the sanitary conditions, because if there was anything wrong it would soon be shown, by the development of acute cases. We have had during the year some very disagreeable cases to care for, but with the completion of the hospital department proper a better place will be provided for the care of those cases.

The admirable plan you selected for the hospital, in my judgment it is a model for the purpose and one that Rock County can well feel proud of, and I am certain that it will add greatly to the usefulness of the institution for we are certainly receive some cases that should be removed from the rest of the inmates. The only operations of any importance performed during the year were a typhoid amputation of the leg of Mary J. Ryan and a leg amputation of the leg of Mrs. Clark.

The former was done for long continued bone disease and the latter for tuberculosis of the knee joint. Both cases made rapid and complete recoveries, the latter having the alms house in less than three weeks after the amputation.

One child was born in the alms house during the year.
I desire to thank every one connected with the institution for the very generous help given me during the year just closed, and to congratulate them on the excellence of their work as cleanliness and good order are everywhere apparent.

Sup. Weirick, from Committee No. 15, presented the following report and moved its adoption:
Report of Committee No. 15 and Judge J. W. Sale.

Your Committee No. 15, together with Judge J. W. Sale, who were authorized by resolution of the May session, 1901, of this board to purchase a bookkeeping machine for the office of Judge J. W. Sale at the lowest possible price have to report that the said bookkeeping machine has been purchased at the sum of one hundred and seventy-five dollars ($175.00) and has been paid for from the general fund in accordance with the resolution.

a cost not to exceed $100.00, would respectfully report that a joint meeting was held with said committee on the 22nd day of November, 1901, and that at said meeting an organization was effected by the election of J. L. Bear, chairman, and W. J. McIntyre, secretary. The secretary entered into correspondence with some of the leading marble and granite firms of this and other states for suitable designs. The committee agreed that on the 30th, 1901, they would present bids, but no selection made. Several other meetings were held with the same result. Finally at a meeting held on the 25th day of March the committee adopted a design submitted by John A. Kunda of Rockford, Ill., which had been slightly changed by suggestions from the committee. The design and working plans and specifications to be furnished for $100.00. A copy of the specifications was furnished to the foundation, in accordance with notices previously sent out to dealers and contractors sealed bids were received for the erection of the monument as follows:

H. A. Grant, Chicago, Ill., $950.00
Geo. H. Mitchell, Chicago, Ill., $700.00
Amasa Hutchins, Rockford, Ill., $674.75
McDonald & Sons, Buffalo, N. Y., $640.00
S. H. Taylor, Chicago, Ill., $712.00
H. C. Crosby, La Crosse, Wis., $275.00
A. S. Jackson, Beloit, Ill., $125.00
J. H. Bahrman, Waukegan, Ill., $175.00

On April 30th the bids were opened and the contract awarded to H. A. Grant, of Beloit, at the lowest bidder who complied with the requirements as fixed by the committee.

Your committee entered into a contract with said H. A. Grant for the sum named, namely $950.00, for the erection of the monument, including the foundation, according to the plans and specifications which had been adopted and which are on file in the county clerk's office. A copy of the contract is also on file in the said office. It was found necessary to excavate to a depth of twelve feet before a good and solid bottom could be obtained for the foundation, being five feet more than the specifications called for. As the contract price for foundation and monument did not include the said extra depth of foundation, we have settled with the sub-contractors, Shawver & Peters, for extra labor and material $214.30. We have paid for dirt to grade around the foundation $10.00, making a total of $244.30.

Other expenses incurred are as follows:
Henry Kaylor for grading around monument with team, one day $3.00
To C. V. Kirsch, surveying, 1.50
To C. W. Reeder, type writing, 2.00
To W. J. McIntyre, postage, 1.50
To balance on photographs of monument, 2.00
To mounting design of monument and foundation, 1.00

Making total extras, $245.30
The foundation was completed within the required time and is one that the sub-contractors, Shawver & Peters, have reason to be proud of. On August 20th, the laying of the corner stone was observed with appropriate ceremonies and a copper box deposited therein containing a copy of the proceedings of the county board, for 1901, a copy of each newspaper published in the county, a roster of the Rock County Ex-Soldiers and Sailors Union, a roster of each of A. A. Post in the county, and a miniature horse shoe made by E. H. Lloyd. We understand the monument has been shipped from Barre, Vermont, and will soon arrive and be set in place. The material is light Barre granite. It will stand 56 feet, 2 inches high, a credit to the citizens of Rock County and a lasting tribute to the memory of the soldiers and sailors of the war of the rebellion.

Report adopted.
All of which is respectfully submitted.
HEAL
SIMON SMITH,
Committee.

NERVOUSNESS
For It We Especially Recommend Vinol.

Why It Is So Highly Endorsed.

There is no need of our telling you that a nervous condition is serious. Those who are not nervous will not be interested in what we have to say.

Anyone who is so unfortunate, however, as not to be able to control their nerves, will realize that any advice that can be given to help them will be invaluable.

We want to impress upon our friends and neighbors in this city that Vinol, that great tonic reconstructer is one of the most wonderful nerve strengtheners that we have ever encountered.

Incidentally we would like to mention the fact that anyone who is suffering from a depleted condition of any of the organs of the body ought not to lose sight of Vinol as a means to tone up the body in part or in whole.

We have had cases come to our observation where Vinol has been taken for nervousness with the most wonderful results. Indigestion, sleeplessness, headaches and various other ills that are all frequently a result of disordered nerves vanish when the nerves are reinvigorated. The following case is one which bears on this subject.

DUNKIRK, N. Y.—I cannot speak too highly of Vinol. For a long time I was a sufferer from nervousness. I had nervous dyspepsia. I tried many medicines but nothing did me as much good as Vinol. It strengthened my nerves and gave tone to my whole system. I urge anyone similarly afflicted to give Vinol a trial.

MRS. F. STEIGER.

Because of the good that Vinol has done in the past for nervous troubles do we feel so sure that there never has been a better general tonic offered to the public. We unhesitatingly offer to refund to anyone the price they pay for Vinol who after a fair trial is not satisfied.

FURROWS ON THE FARM

Some men take to farming as naturally as a duck takes to water. Others fit the farming business very much as a round pin fits a square hole. The natural farmer has a hole. The natural born farmer has to have a good birth and sensible parents at that. All men cannot be doctors, lawyers, merchants, neither all superannuated lawyers make good farmers. The man who makes the best success in farming is he who fits the place and likes it. There are many men who have not demonstrated a fitness for anything who drift to farming. It is said that dogs are sometimes ground into sausage. Lay plans now to leave the average and get up to the highest crop yields. If below the average, look for another job.

When any enthusiast talks cow peas to any reader of this paper who lives in the north it will be well to remember that it is a hot weather plant and should not be planted before corn planting time, that it will die when the first frost comes, that it has not yet developed as a first-class forage plant for the north, and that it is best for poor and worn out land. It is doubtful policy to grow them on any ground that will produce a fair crop of corn.

It seems like old times to hear of cattle selling at $7 as was the case recently, when a number of consignments sold at that figure. This is said to be the highest figure ever touched in the last seventeen years. Feeding fifty cent corn will demand that price will not remain far from this figure.

Any animal that is stunted gets a setback that is rarely ever overcome, and it will bring no profit. It is far too common to see calves and pigs permitted to just get through a season, with little or no feed, in the hope of making up for it later. This does not pay and the sooner we find it out and put a stop to it the better. Always keep the youngsters in a good condition and there will be little trouble if they are bred right.

There was just one boy in the family in which I grew up and at Thanksgiving time in boyhood days the greater part of the turkey was saved for the next meal. This was the way then but now a family of five lusty boys will leave but little of a turkey for the next meal. These boys seem to have appetites like a paper mill.

Melon seeds will keep better tied up in a piece of mosquito bar than in any other way.

For ways, that are dark and tricks that are vain, the oleomargarine seller takes the cake. One of the newest dodges is to take out a license where the laws will permit it and then sell oleo without giving notice or posting hand bills. When oleomargarine is wanted an uncolored article is offered that looks very much like wagon grease, but when butter is asked for a very good grade of oleomargarine is offered that is nicely colored to imitate good butter. One is sold for butter and the other for oleomargarine and both are nothing but an imitation of butter.

Now that the farmer is beginning to do his winter work his thoughts will of course naturally turn to it, and he will be devising methods to do it well. The subject is one of those that have been placed on the program for the special Farmers' Institute issue for January, and it would be a good time for thoughtful farmers to write out their thoughts on the subject and send them in for publication. Many a problem will be solved this winter and many persons will solve no problems whatever. Winter will be a good time to plow up some new ground in the mind and cultivate a field that may have been neglected. Study how to improve the conditions of last year.

After years of trial I have come to the conclusion that it does not pay to put in any crop without first making good preparation. There is more clover seed wasted because clover ground is not properly prepared than any other crop, and we believe that more failures in sowing clover have been due from an insufficient quantity of seed than from any other cause. Sowing clover seed on corn stalk ground is the poorest business one can engage in.

Present indications are that the price of hogs and cattle will advance. A great deal of improperly fattened stuff has already gone to the market because of high prices for feed. The demand exceeds the supply and prices are steady.

Why one man can get but twelve bushels of corn per acre on one side of a fence and another one on the other side seventy-five, is no great mystery. The same rains, sunshine and atmosphere are equally advantageous to both. It is either the land or the man. If the land, it is altogether probable that the man has something to do with the result. If this is a mystery, will some person explain it?

In some localities the central school system is being thoroughly discussed. There is an urgent demand for better rural schools. The rural public schools have never come up to what has been expected they should. The central system will overcome all these difficulties. In some localities where schools of this kind have been run longest, the children do not have free text books, but there is a movement on foot to furnish them with lunch out of the public funds. Let every farmer who has children to educate study the question more closely and make his wants known to his member of the legislature. There is room for improvement in the rural schools and it is time to move.

Everybody wants a big farm in spite of the fact that a great many people believe that small farms are more profitable, relatively. What are the advantages and disadvantages of large and small farms? I would like to see a very general expression of opinion on the subject.

The farmer of this day wants facts and not fakes. On every hand are to be found fakes and many of them appeal directly to the farmer.

The automobile has been before the people for several years and was regarded as a great curiosity for a while by most people, but the horse still has a place wherever he can be made useful or ornamental. The horse holds a relation to the world's work and pleasure that will require some larger force than an automobile to down. While the automobile factories are at work putting out expensive machines, breeders of horses and mules are making extensive arrangements for enlarging their plants.

To open a fruit jar easily take a thin bladed knife and insert just under the rubber, prying it a little to let in the air, and the can will be found to open very easily. Get new rubbers every year so as to insure safety in keeping the fruit.

I've wondered what has become of the liquid air that was so much exploited some months ago as a very cold product. It was to have been a refrigerating agent and motive power and was to have worked wonders in this world. Its use does not seem to have been satisfactory. Ice will be found cold enough for all practical purposes and steam will still work wonders.

I am wondering if the high price for feed will be the means of cutting the number of brood sows down to a lower point than necessary for last year. Between this fact and the prevailing high prices for hogs, there is danger that many brood sows will find their way to market.

A few years ago rain makers got in their work trying to make rain by bombarding the atmosphere in the hope of bringing clouds over the parched country, and consequently rain. Now the French grape owners are bombarding the skies to make the clouds disappear that threaten hail, and thus secure immunity from destructive hail storms. All these efforts would be about as effective as would be the bombardment of Gibraltar with half-cooked apple dumplings. There is always sure to be a certain amount of humbuggery in the world and it may as well be in France as elsewhere.—Wisconsin Farmer.

Most persons consume more food than is required for the two great purposes subserved by it. These are, first, the repair of such bodily substance as may demand renewal, and, second, providing us with "energy," which is simply the power of doing work.

A man in this sense really resembles a locomotive. He has to make good the wear and tear of his machinery, and he has to supply coal and water in the shape of certain food elements in order to develop energy.

The argument of the physiologist is that many persons consume food far in excess of their actual needs. Naturally this accounts for many cases of obesity. If a man of forty-five or fifty will persist in taking as much nutriment as he did when he was thirty years old, he will probably pay for his excess in laying on a good deal of fat. This is especially likely to happen if he limits his exercise.

Whistling For Health.
Whistling as a health exercise is now advocated by German and Swedish professors of physical training. They say that great benefit results from a conscientious practice of the simple art. But they require a systematic and constant effort on the part of the beneficiary.

Drill schools have been formed where one of the chief exercises consists in lying flat, back downward, on a table and simply breathing and expelling air from the lungs with regularity and vigor.

As a method of prolonging life and strengthening the human frame against sickness whistling is said to be beyond compare. Development of chest and neck muscles is one of the special advantages claimed for the exercise. Long, deep breathing is an essential for a good whistler, as it is not permissible to draw in the breath except during the intervals of the sound production.

Fruits For Thirst.

Chemical analysis would assign practically no nutritive value to the juicy fruits, for they consist of little more than a cellulose envelope containing a solution of sugar. The amount of water in fruit is considerable. In watermelons it is no less than 95 per cent, in grapes 80 per cent, in oranges 84 per cent, in lemons 90 per cent, in pears 84 per cent, in plums 80 per cent, inectarines 83 per cent and in strawberries 90 per cent, not a fruit in the whole category containing less than 80 per cent. The irresistible conclusion, considering these facts, is that fruit plays an important role in the diet as a thirst quencher.

Coal Mining in Italy.

The official statistics which have just been issued by the Italian ministry of agriculture and commerce show that in 1899 there were 30 coal mines in operation, while in 1900 there were 44, and the production in the latter year, both as regards tonnage and value, was the highest yet recorded in the Italian statistics. The output was 479,896 tons, valued at 3,542,355 francs, being an increase over the returns of 1899 in quantity of 91,000 tons and in value of 753,136 francs.

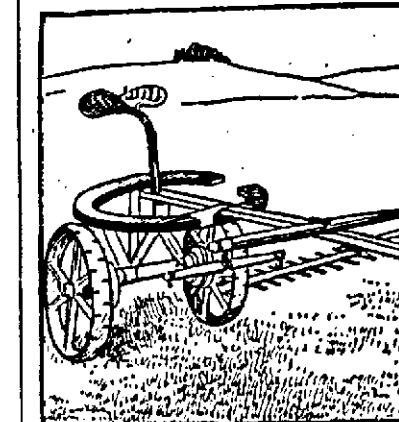

Copper Precipitation.

In an interesting article upon copper precipitation from the water drawn out of the famous mines of the Butte region of Montana Mining and Metallurgy of New York says that $4,000,000 is annually extracted from the mine water by means of precipitation.

It is well known that with the mowers and reapers now in use it is difficult to cut grass or grain which has been blown down by the wind and become lodged on the ground. The difficulty arises largely from the necessity of having to cut around the piece on all sides instead of doing all the cutting on the most convenient side.

To provide for this and at the same time have a machine which can be run back and forth on the same side of the

REVERSIBLE MOWER.

Field Niles S. Hindbjorgen of Hendricks, Minn., has designed a reversible mower, says the Philadelphia Times.

The tongue of the machine is pivoted at the center and by pulling a lever the pin which locks the tongue to the curved frame is drawn and the team may be swung around to pull the mower in the opposite direction. The cutter bar has a double set of knives, and the running gear works as well in one direction as the other. The mower is also designed for use

JOINED IN SACRED BONDS OF WEDLOCK

Marriage of Miss Margaret Eunice Moutat to Alfred Gill Dupuis—A Beautiful Ceremony.

In the presence of a company of about sixty relatives and intimate friends, Miss Margaret Eunice Moutat this afternoon became the wife of Alfred Gill Dupuis, of Chicago, the beautiful ceremony by which they entered upon life's most sacred obligation being solemnized at the pleasant home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Moutat, 401 Court street at five o'clock.

The officiating clergyman was Dr. W. B. Chamberlain, of Oak Park, Ill., now connected with the Chicago Theological seminary, but formerly of Oberlin, O., and a close personal friend of the bride.

The wedding was an especially beautiful one being characterized by elegant simplicity and artistic taste rather than by elaborate detail.

At five o'clock the exquisite strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Chester Parish, from the State School for the Blind, sounded softly through the rooms and to its music the bride descended the stairs preceded by her sister, Miss Mary Moutat as maid of honor and her nephew, Master Stuart Moutat, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Moutat. The bride was handsomely gowned in white silk with trimmings of costly lace and pearls. Her maid of honor wore a becoming costume of pink silk and Master Stuart was very cunning in a pretty suit of white serge. He made a charming little page for his aunt, carrying her roses and fulfilling his duties gracefully.

At the marriage altar the bride and her attendants were met by the groom and Dr. Chamberlain before whom the marriage vows were exchanged. The beautiful ring service was used and the ceremony was especially impressive.

After congratulations had been extended an elegant wedding supper was served at prettily decorated tables.

The delicious supper was faultlessly served by Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Moutat. Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Moutat and Miss Grace Moutat, brothers and sisters of the bride, Mrs. Louise Bowerman was the caterer.

Mr. and Mrs. Dupuis will leave on the 7:15 train tonight and will go direct to Chicago where they will go to housekeeping at 1801 Melrose avenue. Their new home will contain many handsome reminders of their friends for the wedding gifts were costly and numerous.

PALMYRA CLAIMS THE STOLEN RIG

Deputy Sheriff Identifies the Horse and Buggy Held by Maltress—Robbers Stole It.

A deputy sheriff from Palmyra arrived in the city this morning and identified the rig that Sheriff Maltress has that was stolen from a farmer about a mile west of Palmyra Sunday night. It is about thirty miles from the place where the rig was stolen to where it was found on Monday.

The officers are satisfied that the parties that blew open the safe at Palmyra are the same ones that stole the rig. They also feel certain that the parties that blew the safe in a store in Windsor, Dane county, on Monday night and secured over $100 in cash are the same parties that blew the safe in Palmyra Sunday night.

Rig Belongs in Palmyra
Sheriff Maltress went out to the Church farm in the town of Lima yesterday and brought back the horse and buggy that was discovered Monday morning in the woods on the farm. Shortly after his return he was notified by phone from Palmyra that three men had robbed the safe in a store in that place on Friday night and had stolen a horse and buggy to get away with. They went towards the west and as the rig the sheriff has nearly answers the description given by the Palmyra authorities there is little doubt but that it belongs there.

DR. J. F. PERRY IS REPORTED VERY ILL

An Operation for Appendicitis Was Performed Yesterday at Milwaukee—Recovery in Doubt.

Many people in Janesville will be pained to hear that Dr. J. F. Perry, of Port Atkinson, is lying in a critical condition in a hospital in Milwaukee and that there are grave doubts concerning his recovery. Last Saturday Dr. Perry was taken sick with a severe attack of appendicitis and on Tuesday he was taken to Milwaukee by special train accompanied by his wife, her father, Hon. L. B. Caswell, and her sister, Mrs. Guy Cole.

An operation for appendicitis was performed yesterday by Chicago and Milwaukee surgeons but was unsuccessful. A large amount of pus was taken out and the presence of gangrene was discovered. It was decided to operate again today if Dr. Perry's condition was at all favorable.

Dr. Perry is a cousin of Mrs. G. A. Shurtliff and is well known in this city especially by the physicians. He is a close personal friend of Dr. W. H. Palmer and these two gentlemen and their wives toured Europe together a few years ago. Dr. Perry is one of the brilliant young physicians of the state. He has enjoyed unusually fine educational advantages and besides the usual medical education he has taken special courses in certain diseases. He is a specialist in eye, ear and throat and has proved very successful in cases of appendicitis. His professional fame and personal popularity extends beyond the boundaries of his home city and a host of friends all over the state hope for his complete recovery.

LABOR LEADERS LAUD M'KINLEY

American Federation Convention at Scranton Settles Many Minor Matters.

WANTS TEACHERS IN UNIONS.

Trade Autonomy to Be the Bone of Contention—Regret Efforts Made to Divide and Injure Labor Movement in the West.

Scranton, Pa., Dec. 12.—The day's sessions of the American Federation of Labor convention were rather tame. A special committee of five, consisting of President Gompers, Vice President James Duncan, John Mulholland, president of the Allied Metal Mechanics, John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers, and C. M. Hughes, was appointed to look after all resolutions bearing on trade autonomy. Trade autonomy is the great bone of contention in this convention, and the next session will probably witness some animated debates. President Mitchell of the Mine Workers, and President Mahon of the street car men's organization, reported their efforts to settle the street car strike in this city unavailing. The matter was referred to the executive council and they will probably appropriate money for the strikers. The convention decided to organize the school teachers during the coming year. A resolution asking that the teachers be unionized was presented to-day recommended its adoption. The convention concurred in this. A resolution offered by President John O'Leary of the Coremakers' Union asking that the women coremakers be organized was not adopted. The committee reported unfavorably and the convention concurred in its report. The report of the executive council was presented when the day's session of the convention began. Contrary to expectations, the report made no mention of the Gompers-Schaffer-Mitchell controversy, growing out of the recent steel strike. President McKinley was eulogized and it was recommended that a direct appropriation to the McKinley memorial fund be made by the federation. The passage by Congress of anti-injunction and Chinese exclusion acts was recommended. Application for a boycott on an Ohio cash register company was refused and a recommendation was made that further efforts to settle the trouble between the men and the company be made. The report showed that 916 charters were granted to unions by the federation during the year. The council regretted that efforts had been made in certain parts of the West to divide and injure the labor movement and recommended that members of the council be sent to the convention of the Western Federation of Miners to bring about harmony.

Western Jockey Club Stewards Announced Opening Dates for 1902. Lake-side to open season on April 15.

Dr. A. Phillips of California, who has invented an electric bathrobe, claims that it is more efficacious than either the Turkish or Russian bath and that the electric current which passes through the body not only imparts a healthy glow to the skin, but cleanses the pores more thoroughly. The bathrobe, he says, is strengthened.

The bathrobe consists of a heavy corded quilt six feet long and wide enough to envelop the bather. This is filled with 300 feet of German silver wire, which is attached to a coil in a controller. The controller in turn is connected with an ordinary incandescent light.

When a switch is turned, the electric current passes through the blanket, and the latter is heated to a certain temperature. The bather, who is placed in a lying position, is wrapped also in flannel blankets. Profuse perspiration results from the high temperature.

Towing by Electricity.
Towing by electricity along the river banks in England is quite a novel application of electric power. No electrical apparatus whatever will be used on the barge itself, which is to be connected by rope with an electrically propelled vehicle on the path working on the overhead trolley system, somewhat like the system recently put in operation on one of the Belgian canals.

Increased Use of Telephones.
The increased use of telephones in our large cities is worthy of note. San Francisco now has one telephone for every sixteen inhabitants, Boston one for every twenty-four, Cleveland one for every twenty-six, Detroit one for every twenty-eight, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh one for every thirty-five, New York one for every forty-eight, Chicago one for every sixty-one and Philadelphia one for every ninety-six.

Electricity in Siam.
Bangkok, Siam, has now an electric light plant and a tramway six miles long and is laying a second line of equal length. The service is fairly good. The telephone system, however, is said to be decidedly bad. It is owned by the government, and there are some 200 instruments of German make.

A form of shoe which is rather peculiar is the invention of John E. Fenno of Holsington, Kan. Mr. Fenno's shoe is designed particularly to facilitate walking when ascending hills.

The invention, as described by The Scientific American, comprises a ver-

SHOE WITH HILL-CLIMBING ATTACHMENT.
Ideally extensible heel portion arranged to elevate the heel so that the sole of the foot will be in a horizontal position in advancing up hill.

The inventor believes that hill climbing by means of his invention will be a far easier matter than formerly, since a more erect and comfortable attitude will be preserved with less fatigue.

The Kress Airship.
The airship upon which Herr Kress has been working for the past twenty-five years was recently tested at Tullerbach, lower Austria. The idea which the inventor has been trying to evolve is that of a machine to be run upon water until it developed a certain speed, which, when attained, would raise it into the air. This speed was fixed at thirty-five feet a second. In the trial the speed was reached, and the airship rose in the air, but when only a few feet from the surface of the water it was struck by a terrible squall, which turned it over, and it went to the bottom of the lake. Herr Kress had a life belt and so escaped drowning.

Lead Enamel on Iron.
A new and successful process for applying a coating of lead enamel to iron surfaces by mechanical means, invented by M. A. Dornoy, was recently described in La Nature. The articles to be coated, after being heated to redness, are placed in a double hermetically sealed chamber with glazed slides. Each half of the chamber can be worked alternately, and the surplus enamel powder, dusted over the metal by means of a sieve, is removed from the chamber by the draft from a high chimney.

Brickettes From Garbage.
One problem which municipal authorities of all countries have been seeking to solve is how to best dispose of the city's garbage. A process has been discovered in France by which garbage is converted into brickettes. It consists of mixing the refuse from abattoirs, fish markets, etc., straw, paper and the like, and adding tar and naphthalene. The whole mass is then mixed in a kneading apparatus, dried and pressed into brickettes.

Verdict of $14,000 for Libel.
Omaha, Dec. 12.—The jury in the case of Miss Agnes Frizzell, who sued J. C. Root, sovereign commander of the Woodmen of the World, and others for the publication in the Tidings of an alleged libel, last night returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, allowing her $14,000 damages. The publication was in connection with a controversy over the placing of a tombstone over the grave of a victim of an Arkansas tornado.

Left a Shortage of $40,000.
Wilson, N. C., Dec. 12.—E. L. Powell, manager of the brokerage business of Murphy & Co. of New York, has disappeared from Wilson, and it is reported he is $40,000 short in his accounts. It is said he left a note saying he would commit suicide and mailed it at Rocky Mount. It is supposed he is in New York. Powell claims in his note that he lost the money on Union Pacific stock and cotton deals.

Funston and Taft to Return.
Manila, Dec. 12.—General Funston will sail for the United States Dec. 16 on the transport Warren. The doctors have ordered a change of climate, and the general is going home on sick leave. He has improved in health since he left the hospital. Governor Taft will sail for home on the Grant on Dec. 20. He says the rumors to the effect that he will not return here are incorrect.

Carnegie Increases His Gift.
Pekin, Ill., Dec. 12.—Trustees of the public library fund have received a letter from Andrew Carnegie in which he agrees to raise his donation to the city from $10,000 to $15,000 under the original agreement—that the city raises a proportionate amount and sets apart a fund for the maintenance of the institution.

ON THE ROAD

All the time, eating irregularly, sleeping irregularly, exposed to every disease latent in bad cooking or poor food; that's a summary of the traveling man's life. The result is "stomach trouble"; that general term which covers various forms and stages of disease of the organs of digestion and nutrition. The traveling man can't avoid the troubles which spring from his business obligations. But he can avoid "stomach trouble." If Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is used when the early symptoms of derangement of the stomach manifest themselves, the cure will be quick and radical. But even if the disease has become chronic the "Discovery" will cure ninety-eight times out of every hundred if tried fairly and faithfully.

Mr. Ned Nelson, the celebrated Irish comedian and mimic, of 577 Royden St., Camden, N. J., writes: "We fulfilled an engagement of twelve weeks and the constant traveling gave me a bad touch of that dreaded disease called dyspepsia. I had tried everything possible to cure it till last week, while playing at B. F. Keith's Bijou theater, Philadelphia, in the Nelson trio, a professional friend of mine advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I tried it, and, thank God, with good results." Free! Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, 700 illustrations, is sent free on receipt of stamps, to cover expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the same book cloth-bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The ROCK CO. TELEPHONE COMPANY has more than double the number of subscribers in Janesville than the Wisconsin (Bell) Telephone Co. has, and one of its phones is therefore worth twice as much to each subscriber.

It reaches practically everybody that the Bell Co. does in Janesville and the counties surrounding, and thousands that the Bell Co. does not reach at all.

For example, the Rock County Co. reaches the following places in Rock County alone, which are not reached by the Bell Co.:

Avalon, Afton, Bergen, Cooksville, Cainville, Center, Fulton, Footville, Johnstown, Rock Prairie, Hanover, Shopers, Milton, Magnolia and Fairfield.

Besides these places, the Rock Co. reaches about 100 farmers in Rock County, while the Bell Co. reaches no farmers at all.

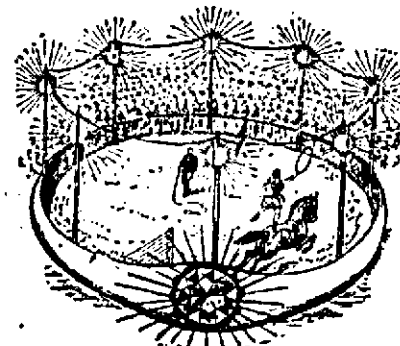

Every Rock County telephone is a Long Distance instrument; the Bell Co. exacts an extra price for similar instruments.

Every Rock County subscriber has a full metallic circuit of 2 wires, while the Bell Co. still uses the old system of one wire.

The Rock County Company's rate for a residence phone is 5 cents per day for unlimited connections with 800 subscribers. Before it had competition, the Bell Co. charged $2.50 per month for residences in Janesville, for connection with only 200 subscribers.

MANSION FOR TRAMPS

ONE TO BE BUILT IN PHILADELPHIA
COSTING $50,000.

How the Hubo Is Taken Care of in the Quaker City—Many Institutions There Where He Can Find Shelter and Food.

Probably in no city in the Union have so much time and thought been given to the tramp problem as in Philadelphia, where for years every effort has been made to keep wayfarers and men out of work off the streets and provide for those who are entirely without the means of obtaining food. The Philadelphia Society For Organized Charity took the matter in hand some time ago, and since then no man willing to do a little labor has had any excuse for being without food or shelter. This charitable work has been carried on so successfully in the Quaker City that a new home for tramps is about to be erected there at a cost of $50,000. When finished, it will be the largest and most complete institution of its kind in Pennsylvania if not in the United States.

The new fifty thousand dollar home for hobo's will be on Lombard street, and, although work on it has already begun, it will not be ready for "Weary Willy" until the spring of 1902. Its capacity will be over 200 beds, and no money will be expended upon it for external decorations, as it is designed from cellar to garret to be useful. Bathing, disinfecting facilities and good ventilation have been given special attention, and plenty of air space for each sleeper will be obtained. There the hungry man can obtain food, a bath and a good bed for an insignificant sum or if he is penniless this will be given him in payment for some light work.

The plan whereby the hungry and homeless could find a temporary home in the Quaker City was conceived by the Philadelphia Society For Organized Charity a number of years ago, and a small property was purchased and remodeled so as to accommodate sixty persons. A second home of this kind was established later, and this accommodated a hundred men. As the society's charity became better known, and it was decided to build the new fifty thousand dollar home.

In erecting these homes for tramps the idea advanced by the society is that it tends to abolish begging on the streets and gives to those really deserving a temporary shelter. All who enjoy the charity are compelled to do some light work in payment. Over 33,000 lodgings and 60,000 meals were worked for last year, and the number of applications increased each month until it became absolutely necessary to enlarge the homes. The fifty thousand dollar building was made possible through generous donations.

Besides these homes mentioned there are a number of other institutions of this kind in Philadelphia, and the man out of work finds that city a refuge. There is the Central soup-house at Seventh and Cherry streets, which is always open and where a small sum secures a meal, and good accommodation can always be found at the Salvation Army Workmen's hotel at Second and Spruce streets. Out in Germantown the work of the Whosoever Gospel mission is if anything even broader in scope on the work proposition. There the hungry tramp or wayfarer if he is a carpenter is sent to repair steps, fix a door or do some odd job in his line. Upholsterers, paper hangers, plumbers and men of all trades are sent out on their special work from this place, sometimes getting an entire day's or even a week's employment and not infrequently securing steady work through the efforts of this society.

For the hobo who has not lost all self respect and wants a bath or clean laundry a place has been established in Philadelphia where hot and cold water showers put new life into a man and where his linen is made so fresh and clean that he feels almost like a house at home when he leaves the place. This is the Model Bath and Wash House at Naudin and Lethgow streets and is open all the year round. This bathhouse has a man's department, with twenty-six shower baths and tubs, a woman's department, with fourteen shower baths and tubs, and a public washhouse equipped with stationary tubs, drying closets and all laundry facilities.

For 5 cents at the Model Bath and Wash House the use of the showers, dressing room, towels and a fresh cake of soap are given, and the washers pay 5 cents for the use of the laundry. If the tramp who applies here has not the necessary nickel, he is willing to earn the same, he is given use of both laundry and bath. The tramp comes out of this place feeling like a new man and presenting such a different appearance that he stands a good show of securing work. After his wash he can satisfy the wants of the inner man at the Central soup-house, where for 2, 3 or 5 cents a bowl of soup can be purchased. If the tramp is "dead broke," he is given a bowl of soup for nothing.

All the large cities and many of the smaller ones make some provision for the hungry and homeless man, but Philadelphia's example in this respect might well be followed. All the "Weary Willys" and "Hungry Hubs" and "Plodding Pities" and "Tired Toms" are not tramps from choice, and a list at the right time has often made different men of them. In the new fifty thousand dollar home for hobo's there will be many conveniences not found in smaller hotels, and every precaution has been taken against fire.

HER BARGAIN DAY.

It Was One to Be Remembered by a Detroit Woman's Husband.

It was a Detroit lawyer who hired a trampish looking man to do some work about his house the other day, and as he was a bit suspicious of him and as there were a lot of things around he could easily pick up it was suggested to the wife that she keep an eye on the fellow. This she agreed to do, and the lawyer departed for his office. After a couple of hours he telephoned, and she answered that everything was all right. He telephoned again as he went to lunch and got the same report. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the wife telephoned that the man had suddenly disappeared and that she thought a harness from the barn had gone with him. The lawyer started for home at once, and within five minutes of getting there he had found that a thirty dollar harness was missing.

"I thought you agreed to watch him?" he said to his wife in indignant tones. "Yes, I did," she replied, "and I had my eye on him most all the time. A fire engine went past, and I never went to the door. The ambulance came clanging along, and I never looked out. As many as three different peddlers called, but I would not bother with them. I think a street car struck a wagon on the block above and hurt a man, but I wouldn't go out to see."

"Then you must have fallen asleep," "No, I didn't. It was just this way: An old clo' man came along."

"And what of it?" "I knew you had an old overcoat hanging up stairs, and it was such a good chance to get rid of it."

"And so you quit watching the tramp to dicker with the old clo' man?"

"That was it, but it was the first old coat I ever sold, you know, and I was so anxious to make a good bargain."

"Well, your dicker over the old coat has cost me a thirty dollar harness," said the husband.

"Oh, but it hasn't," she smilingly replied. "I made such a bargain selling that coat."

"How much did you get for it?" "Forty-five cents, and I don't believe it was worth 30. We can afford to have a harness stolen every week if we can get such a big price for our old clothes."—Detroit Free Press.

She Was Pleased.

The stepladder was on when young Mrs. Torkins took her place in the grand stand.

"Charles, dear," she exclaimed, "there is no telling where in the world those horses are going next!"

"Not unless you are familiar with the course."

"Why don't they go straight ahead?" "Because it is not that kind of a race."

"Oh! I understand. This is one of those crooked races I have read so much about. I am so glad to have a chance to see one!"—Washington Star.

A Statesman's Reason.

"If you didn't say any of the things that are printed in that alleged interview," asked his intimate friend, "why don't you deny them and set yourself right with the public?"

"Because," answered Senator Lottman, "it was so much more scholarly and correct than anything I could possibly have said I hate to disturb the illusion."—Chicago Tribune.

Willing to Compromise.

"I think," said the amateur pianist, slanting the maiden's hand toward the light in order to see the lines more plainly—"I think you are going to be married twice."

"Oh, dear," she said, "can't you just cut off the 'think' and make it a dead sure once?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Cautious Customer.

"How will you have your eggs cooked?" asked the waiter.

"Make any difference in the cost of 'em?" asked the customer cautiously.

"No."

"Then cook 'em with a nice slice of ham," said he, greatly relieved.

State Has an Anniversary.
Springfield, Ill., Dec. 12.—Illinois' natal day was commemorated by an all-day meeting held by the Illinois society in the hall of the house of representatives yesterday. Patriotic speeches, telling of the career of the Prairie State, pointing to her achievements, and to the record of her illustrious sons, were the themes of the speakers. Former Vice President Adlai E. Stevenson of Bloomington delivered an address on "The Early History of Illinois." Governor Yates made a short talk.

Former Priest Takes Poison.
Boston, Dec. 12.—The medical examiner has decided that Maurice and Edward Fitzgerald took poison to end lives which had been full of hardships for twenty years. They were found dead amid squalor. Maurice, once a priest and of brilliant attainments, was excommunicated by Archbishop Williams for violations of his priestly vows, and for years sued in the courts to get the ban removed.

Criticism Cuba: Loses His Post.
Washington, D. C., Dec. 12.—Lieutenant Commander Lucien Young has been relieved of his present post as captain of the port of Havana. The officer was charged with making indiscreet statements in a recently published interview in which he discussed the ability of the Cubans to govern themselves.

Crime Mystery Dark.
Washington, D. C., Dec. 12.—The mystery surrounding the murderous assault upon Mrs. Dennis, committed night before last, remains unsolved. The patient lies unconscious at the hospital, unable to aid in establishing a clue. Twice to-day she remarked: "It's a woman. It's in the book, and I'll tell you all about it."

A Curious Barometer.
A curious barometer is said to be used by the remnant of the Araucarian race, which inhabits the southernmost province of Chili. It consists of the cast-off shell of a crab. The dead shell is white in fair, dry weather; but, indicating the approach of a moist atmosphere by the appearance of small red spots, as the moisture in the air increases it becomes entirely red, and remains so throughout the rainy season.
